JASON ANTHONY

"As a contractor, I've been buying from Buckeye for several years and have always been very happy with their service and products. Their prices are great, and they can usually "squeeze" me in when I need something short-notice or have a custom piece/pieces to be made, sometimes even on the same day. I don't have any reason to shop around, and if they continue as they have in the past, I plan to do business with Buckeye for years to come. Good group of people."

TONY WILSON

Contractor's Ally

Need a hand?

If you are struggling to find enough hands for your standing seam roofing crew these days, you're not alone. With labor shortages deepening, you might feel like you'll never catch up.

Save Labor

If this resonates, then Buckeye's standing seam panels are for you. Pre-notched with installation tabs, these panels can save you hours of laborious notching.

We Deliver

Stay on task while we deliver what you're running low on. You can depend on us for precise order fills that won't waste your precious minutes.

We carry one of the most enduring installs available: mechanical standing seam. Wow prospective customers with this option and convince them that you're their top pick.

How It Works

1. Tell us what you need.

Contractor-to-contractor shoptalk. We hash out the details together and make a delivery plan.

2. Ready? Here we come.

Forget bulky hauling and the stress of supply runs in the face of looming deadlines. We bring your metal panels onto your job site and unload them in a tidy stack for your crew. And that's not all. We'll drop off everything you need: the insulation, the fasteners, the caulking, the vents. No kidding.

3. Finish well.

With a supply partner in your wheelhouse, you can finish well. Even if the estimate runs short, we have your back. We'll be right over with your supplies so you can wrap up your job with excellence.

Bringing roofing wins to your crews and customers!

The wins

Pre-notched panels with tabs for installation and a built-in drip-edge seam. Give your crew an extra holiday.

Precision to the $\frac{1}{8}$ " inch. How's that for corner-cutting?

Burn- and scratch-free. Freshly beautiful panels that make you grin.

Why is standing seam capturing the allegiance of American homeowners?

Long-distance runner

If you're a homeowner, needing to replace your roof likely doesn't top your list of happy thoughts. Choose standing seam and you might not have to consider a roof replacement ever again.

When you invest in standing seam, you're investing in the long haul. Your roof may last 2-3 times longer than an asphalt roof. Plus, with low to no maintenance, you'll barely remember it's there.

Design prowess

The sleek, modern lines of standing seam play well into an understated, classy aesthetic. And with its large color palette, standing seam opens up a world of color coordination possibilities for imaginative homeowners.

Eco-kind

If you're footprint mindful, 100% recyclable standing seam makes great sense. While the upfront cost of asphalt shingles is less, the toll on the environment is more. Stay green with standing seam.

Energy bill slasher

Well-insulated, standing seam roofs keep attics warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer than shingle roofs do. Since standing seam deflects rather than absorbs the sun's rays, it ranks near the top of energy-efficient roofs.

Mr. Durable

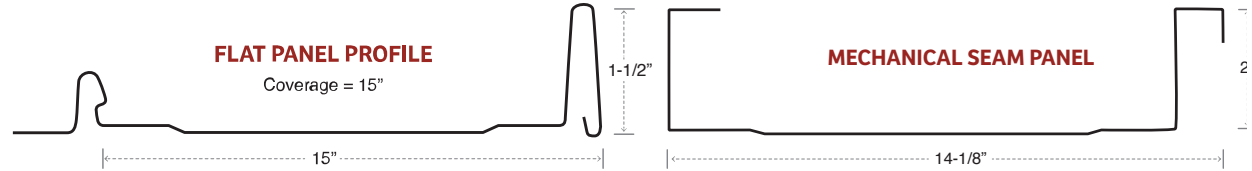

Dents? Blemishes? Our freshly-rolled standing seam clocks in at 26 gauge*, giving your roof a tougher hide than most other roofing materials. And leaks are out. With standing seam's hidden fasteners, your roof comes without holes or rust hotspots.

Fire defiant

Metal roofs defy lightning and fire. Our roofing materials carry a UL Class "A" fire rating for roof coverings. This means top resistance to fire spread in the attic, flame spread, and the generation of burning embers.

* 24 gauge available upon request.

"I would recommend Buckeye for their fair price and service. They have a quick turnaround when you call in and order something. And they never complain when they have to run something out to the job site. If you're short on something, they'll deliver it that day yet so you can finish up the job. It's very nice."

JOSEPH MILLER,
J TROYER ROOFING

"Buckeye's standing seam comes with a nail flange built into each panel. This makes it nice because we don't have to use the traditional clip. I won't install any other standing seam."

LAMAR WEAVER,
ROCKY FORK CONSTRUCTION

"Buckeye Metal Sales helped us through the whole process of building our home. From picking out the perfect metal siding all the way to the metal roof. We could not be more pleased. They were efficient and extremely knowledgeable in choosing the right materials to make our vision on paper come to life. We HIGHLY, HIGHLY recommend Buckeye Metal Sales, from the staff to the materials. You will not find better quality and service anywhere else."
